

Privacy Policy

At CCGR we collect different types of information about our users for the following main reasons:

1. To provide a useful resource in the form of a directory of online users.
2. To provide an interactive website where email is used to communicate with the users.
3. To provide a security mechanism whereby we can restrict content to certain groups of users.
4. To help us to improve the service we offer.

Our principles

We are absolutely committed to protecting your privacy. Our policy can be summarised in one sentence: we will not share your information with others without your consent.

We have established the following two principles:

1. We will respect your email privacy. You will only receive email from CCGR in relation to areas you have expressly signed up for.
2. We will not share any individual user details (including your email address) to any third party without your consent.

What information do we collect?

The minimum information we need to reply to you is your name and an email address. We also ask for some further, voluntary information so we can provide a richer, more useful communication with you, i.e. sending a Newsletter to you.

What else you should know about privacy

Our pages may contain links to other websites, and you should be aware that we are not responsible for the privacy practices on other websites.
